

Training for Communication Tactical Phase

Les Fieldi

Effective Communication Requires
Effective Command and Control

Command

The authority for an agency to direct the actions of its own resources (both people and equipment)

Control

The authority to direct strategic and tactical operations in order to complete an assigned function and includes the ability to direct the activities of other agencies engaged in the completion of that function. The control of the assigned function also carries with it a responsibility for the Health and Safety of those involved.

Lack of Command

In the absence of a commander, operations will break down in seven areas:

(* FIRE COMMAND - ALAN V. BRUNACINI

7 Command Functions

- Action
- Command & Control
- Co-ordination
- Planning
- Organisation
- Communication
- Safety

Simple Rules

- Commanders should not get involved in actions.
- They should stand back, assess, take control, make a plan and delegate tasks.
- All this requires effective communication

Communication Methods

- Telephone
- Text
- Radio Nets
- Face to Face

Initial Communication

Basic Command Structure

Complex Command Structure

INCIDENT RESPONSE - COMMAND AND CONTROL (GOLD)

